Description

& Summary

Now, you can become part of a fantastic team and community that takes pride in solving significant issues and providing high-end support to customers and business partners. Our focus on the development of people; their competences and development, is a natural part of our daily work.

At PwC CFO Service, we use our knowledge of processes, internal controls, effective financial management, and project management in the finance function to advise and assist customers across industries in the Danish business community. If you have consulting, auditing, accounting or financial management experience, a flair for process optimization and project management, we are looking for you!

CFO Service aims to be the CFO's preferred partner. We advise our clients, deliver projects, and provide interim consulting services; both individually and in teams. We take an operational approach to helping our clients ensure that the right skills, processes, and management tools are used by the finance function. If you want to help make a difference in Denmark's leading companies you have the chance to become part of an inspiring and vibrant culture where we raise the bar and make a difference together.

Become part of an expanding department

CFO Service collaborates with clients to operate, develop, and optimize the finance function, enabling it to provide an optimal basis for decision-making. Examples of assignments and roles we perform for our customers:

Operational finance

Financial and Business Controlling

Project Management and Risk Management

Design and optimization of processes

Finance transformation

Due diligence processes

You will become an important part of a large and rapidly growing department and will benefit from a vibrant and inspiring culture. You must be motivated by being part of our professional and social community. We focus on making work fun – even when it's busy.

It is important for us to offer the best conditions in terms of development and flexibility. We offer a vibrant and inspiring culture to everyone pursuing a career with us. When you join PwC, a career coach will be assigned to you and will follow your development closely.

Together, we will ensure that you are assigned to tasks that develop your competencies and that your skills are applied in the best way possible to relevant projects.

Are you motivated by improving yesterday's performance?

You have a relevant master's degree and three to seven years of work experience from the consultancy or audit industry. Alternatively, you have experience in accounting and financial management from a corporate company. What matters most is that your professional toolbox is in place.

To be successful, it is important that you:

thrive in a consultancy role characterized by a varied workday with many different tasks

like to have and are motivated by being in contact with many people throughout the day are curious and want to work in a highly professional environment, challenging you and vice versa every day focus on details and excel at keeping cool when time is short and the task complex. In practice, this means that you must be able to work in an analytical and structured manner.

Are you eager to make a difference?

PwC is defined by our dedicated staff and partners. We work alongside Denmark's leading enterprises, private owned companies, and public institutions. We build trust in society and help solve important problems by leveraging our knowledge within audit, tax and advisory services. It is important for us to offer the most developing and flexible conditions to everyone pursuing a career with us – from our skilled student assistants to experienced partners. Are you as eager to make a difference as we are? If you have a good head on your shoulders, a big heart, and a broad smile, then PwC may be the right place for you.
